Rights Groups Hurt Financially by the Riots in the North

By DON MCKEE
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The
financial problems of civil rights organizations are being compounded by the northward
shift of integration campaigns,
by Negro riots, by the emergence of black power and by a feeling that federal laws have solved basic racial problems.

A continuing decline in income this year has been reported by the Congress of Racial Equality and other civil rights organizations have said they too were operating in the red.
Contributions have dropped steadily since enactment of the 1964 civil rights law, said Don Smith, a New York leader of CORE, which has been running a $200,000-a-year deficit.

"Ideological issues in the civil rights movement and the way
the press has interpreted black power have contributed to this downward trend," Smith said.
CORE has allied itself with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee in adopting the militant black power line.
Leaders of both groups have acknowledged that their new ideology, widely interpreted by opponents as antiwhite, contributed to sagging donations. But COREs deficit and SNCC's financial situation was described last January by a top official as "desperate" — five months before Chairman Stokely Carmichael first raised the black power banner.

Carmichael has said SNCC
must build a base of support within the Negro community because funds from white sources
have virtually dried up.
A tax lien has been filed against CORE by the Internal Revenue Service for $22,500 in employment taxes which the agency claims were collected from employees but not remitted
to the government.

Recent drastic economy
moves by CORE have included a staff cutback and transfer of offices from Park Row in New York to Harlem, the New York
Times reported.
Floyd B. McKissick, national director of CORE, and some associates met recently with a group of Baltimore clergymen to seek financial help.
"No specific pledges were given," said Lincoln Lynch, associate director of CORE. But he said the clergymen agreed that CORE "merited the moral and financial support of the community."

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell,
D-N.Y., urged the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs to contribute to CORE and SNCC, saying "these two organizations represent the wave of the black future."
The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, oldest and largest of the membership was about 450,000,

Wardens Accused of Wrongdoing

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus fired wardens and demoted trustees en masse Thursday with the announcement that State Police had uncovered prison wrongdoing ranging from extortion to beatings.

At the same time, Faubus said he would do what state and federal courts had refused to do — ban a controversial whip-like leather strap that has been used to punish prisoners.

Faubus said O. E. Bishop, superintendent of the state's prison system, was not involved.

The governor fired all three wardens — E. T. Fletcher, Jess Wilson and E. G. Mays — at Tucker Prison Farm, where 1,905 of the state's younger convicts are confined.

The wardens could not be reached for comment.

Faubus, who revealed his action at a news conference, said that Jim Bruton, assistant prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm, had resigned before the investigation began.

"Unless new information is developed of a different nature," Faubus said, "he would not be permitted to return to the prison under any circumstances."

The governor also demoted about 15 of the 23 trustees at Tucker Prison and had them transferred to Cummins Prison Farm, where Bishop has his offices and where veteran criminals are kept. Both prisons are in southeast Arkansas near Pine Bluff.

Trustees and other officials from Cummins Prison took over the operation of Tucker Prison.

Bishop launched the investigation, Faubus said, by contacting the governor's office and the State Police Criminal Investigation Division after getting reports of improper activities.

Faubus said a plainclothes officer of the State Police, acting under Bishop's auspices at Tucker Prison, discovered that — Money was being extorted from convicts.

Prisoners were being whipped with the strap and punished in other ways under circumstances that violated prison regulations.

Security measures were not properly maintained.

Liquor was allowed to fall into the hands of some prisoners.

Eugene Hale, the governor's legal representative in the probe, said the investigation indicated some of the improper conduct has been going on for almost a year.

"Right now," he said, "we're checking out indications that some free world people — people outside the prison system — may be involved."

Hale declined to comment when asked how much money might have been involved, how a prison extortion could take place, or whether any state funds were involved.

"All I'd like to say at this point is that we have enough evidence to stand up in court and back up what we've done so far," Hale said.

He said the investigation probably would be completed next week, handed over to Faubus in final form, and, "then, I assume, it'll be turned over to the proper authorities for any legal action needed."

Faubus said the use of the strap would be forbidden as soon as an isolation ward can be constructed.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. CHARLES RAY BEGGS

El Dorado — The chapel of the First Methodist Church was the place of the wedding of Miss Melinda Lou Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hastings Jones of El Dorado, and Charles Ray Beggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Beggs of Hope, on Sunday, August 28.

White gladiolas and white daisies in urns flanked by two candelabras against a background of palms decorated the chapel. White candles in 9-branched candelabras lighted the scene while the couple knelt for prayer on a brass pradeau covered with white pillow.

Melvin Ballard, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and Robert Hightower, godfather of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride given in marriage by her father was gowned in a street length dress of white peau de sole designed with a scalloped bodice of chantilly lace over an empire waistline. Her train of lace bound in peau de sole was attached at the shoulders. She wore a veil of English silk illusion which fell from a double crown of miniature leaves adorned with pearls. She carried a cascade design of white roses and Stephanotis.

Miss Ann Jones served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of seafoam green silk organza over taffeta. A face veil over a circle of embroidered lace completed her costume. She carried white daisies with yellow centers backed by white maline and streamers.

Jerry J. Beggs of Waldo was his brother's best man and ushers were Cleveland Jones, brother of the bride, and Jim Bob Hightower, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jones selected a green suit of silk shantung with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Beggs wore a blue silk dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was tropicanna roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones honored the couple with a reception in their home. The bride's table was a full skirted organza cloth under laid with yellow and decorated with a four branched cherub candelabrum with yellow daisies.

Miss Karen Beggs, sister of the groom was at the bridesbook which lay on a small table beside her bouquet and at the base of a white anniversary candle.

Those assisting in serving were: Mrs. C. H. Jones, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. O. W. Harris, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Robert Hightower, and Miss Sharon Jarrell.

For travel the bride changed to a green linen sheath dress with bone accessories. After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home in Magnolia.

Those attending from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rushing, Camden; Mr. and Mrs. John Meek, Pine Bluff; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powell, Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jarrell, Hot Springs; Miss Syndy Rushing, of Childster; Mrs. Jerry J. Beggs and children, Waldo; Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. White, Lonoak; and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davidson, Magnolia.

Pepys Nearly Got Scooped on Big Fire

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — Three hundred years ago today reporter Samuel Pepys all but got scooped on one of the greatest fires of history.

He was saved by his cook. At 2 a.m., Sept. 2, 1666, Pepys' cook, Jane, woke him to tell him about a fire she could see from her window.

The 33-year-old Pepys blinked his eyes and — but let the great reporter relate his near goof of the 17th century.

"So I rose," he recorded in his famous diary, "and went to her window. But I thought it far off, and so went to bed again, and to sleep."

While the diarist — whose detailed and colorful reporting is still read today — slept on, the great fire of London raged like a herd of flame-belching dragons less than 600 yards from his house.

Pepys' house was on Seething Lane, midway between the Tower of London and Pudding Lane. The fire started in Thomas Farriner's baking shop on Pudding Lane, about 300 yards north of London Bridge.

An east wind was whipping in from the North Sea and it was a whopping big fire when Samuel Pepys finally rolled out of his four-poster at midmorning.

He still ignored the fire, however. "So to my closet," wrote Pepys in his diary, "to set things to rights after yesterday's cleaning."

moned Pepys. "By and by," said Pepys, "Jane comes and tells me that above 300 houses have been burned down tonight by the fire we saw, and that it is now burning down all Fish Street."

This second tipoff from the kitchen launched the diarist into action.

His account is a moving and compassionate report of the great fire.

"So down to the waterside, and there got a boat," and through bridge, and there saw a lamentable fire. Everybody endeavoring to remove their goods, and flinging into the river. Poor people staying in their houses as long as till the very fire touched them. And among other things, the poor pigeons, I perceive, were loath to leave their houses, but hovered about the windows and balconies till they burned their wings, and fell down."

That night Pepys was back at the scene.

"When we could endure no more upon the water, went to a little ale house on the Bankside and saw the fire grow, and as it grew darker, appeared more and more, and in the corners and upon steeples, and between churches and houses, as far as we could see of the hill of the City, in a most horrid, malicious bloody flame."

"We stayed till, it being darkish, we saw the fire as only one entire arch of fire from this to the other side of the bridge, and in a bow up the hill for an arch of above a mile long. It made me weep to see it. The churches, the houses, and all on fire, and flaming at once, and a horrid noise the flames made, and the crackling of houses at their ruin."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

ITWORKED!
Dear Helen: There are times in a man's life when he's vulnerable. He can have a good marriage, a fine family, a wife who keeps him quite happy, yet he begins to think he may be missing something.

It isn't only the men who aren't well-kept at home that stray. I know. But I got my man back through a ruse I read in an advice column. I think it might have been yours, years ago.

This sweet little thing caught my man because he was at the dangerous age. . . too old for active sports and too young for grandchildren. He fought it, but she wanted marriage and he was bowled over that anyone so young could "love" him. Huhum! She loved that fat paycheck!

Well, I took a long chance on a half-serious suggestion I'd read. I went to see her, "happy and relieved" — I'm pretty good actress. I told her this was a chance for me to do what I'd always wanted to do — have a career — and I was giving my husband the divorce, complete with full custody of our five children! Then I handed her an itemized list of their allergies, clothing requirements, food preferences, friends, expectations of parents, etc., etc. — It was four pages long. I told her I'd send them over for a week and soon so she could get used to them.

My husband came to his senses shortly after that. Can't imagine why. We've reached the point where we can laugh about it together . . . now. — Called Her Bluff

Dear CHB: Yes, you read it in HUU, but it was strictly theory, and, as you say, only a half-serious suggestion. So happy to hear it worked, but it might not for everyone. This gambit needs a mighty dumb "sweet little thing" not to know a mother would back down — or else be a better actress than most distraught wives can be. — H.

Dear Helen: Thanks to everyone who wrote to Charles Brooks III, at West Hollywood, Fla. Your cards and letters have greatly cheered a 17-year-old boy whose illness is still serious. — Grandparents

Indians in Victory Over Loop Leader

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Sonny Siebert is on the field, the Baby Birds don't get off the ground.

Siebert Thursday night, firing a five-hitter as the Cleveland Indians whipped the American League leaders 4-1.

"The 29-year-old right-hander, author of the only no-hitter in the majors this season, out-pitched rookie ace Jim Palmer for his 15th victory — and fourth in five meetings with the Orioles."

He has beaten Palmer — a 14-game winner himself — two times and also has topped rookie Eddie Watt and second-year man Wally Bunker since losing to Palmer last May 8 in his first start against the Orioles.

But Siebert has been up-and-down against the rest of the league since June 11, when he flipped his no-hitter, against Washington and said: "It's like you're flying, like you're way up there in the clouds."

Until Thursday night, Siebert had failed to finish eight straight starts since July 25. He has won his last three decisions, however, and is only one victory short of his 1965 total.

Baltimore's fifth setback in six games, coupled with Detroit's 7-5, 10-inning victory over Chicago, left the Orioles 11 games ahead of the second-place Tigers. The New York Yankees trimmed California 5-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, New York shaded San Francisco 2-1, Chicago trampled Cincinnati 11-3, St. Louis beat Atlanta 7-4 and Philadelphia downed Houston 3-1 in National League games.

Frank Robinson, who had clipped Siebert for four homers in their last two meetings, drove in the Orioles' run with a third-inning double and also singled, lifting his league-leading batting mark to .320. Otherwise, Siebert was in command, retiring 19 of the last 21 men he faced.

Norm Cash hit his 26th homer in the 10th inning and Willie Horton followed with his 22nd, lifting the Tigers past Chicago. Reliever John Buzhardt was the victim.

Detroit had tied it 5-5 in the sixth on Jerry Lumpe's double, an infield out and a wild pitch by White Sox starter Joe Horlen.

Jim Northrup also homered for Detroit and Tommie Agee connected for the Sox.

Tom Tresh rapped a two-run homer for New York and the Yankees added three unearned runs with the help of four California errors and a balk by reliever Ramon Lopez.

Rookie Fritz Peterson boosted his pitching record to 11-9 but needed last-out relief help from Dooley Womack after blanking the Angels on four hits through eight innings.

Dodgers in Close Win Over Pirates

By RON RAPAPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ron Fairly's two-run single in the 10th inning started out as the icing on Los Angeles' cake, but it ended up as the skin of the Dodgers' teeth.

A walk to Jim Gilliam with the bases loaded Thursday broke a 1-1 tie between the Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates in the extra frame and when Fairly followed with a single to center, the Dodgers headed into the home half of the inning with what appeared to be a comfortable 4-1 lead. The appearance was deceiving.

Phil Regan replaced Dodger starter Don Sutton on the mound and was rudely greeted by Donn Clendenon's single. Bill Mazeroski flied out, but Bob Bailey clubbed one into the seats, making the score 4-3 and Fairly's hit crucial.

Regan finally got Jerry Lynch to fly out and Ron Perranoski lent a hand by getting Manny Mota to ground out.

The Pirates thus passed up a sterling opportunity to take over sole possession of first place in the National League as the New York Mets beat San Francisco 2-1 earlier in the day. The Pirates and Giants remained tied for the top spot and the Dodgers climbed up to within two games of them.

Sutton and Vern Law matched up in a heroic pitchers' battle through the first nine innings. The young Dodger hurler gave up a leadoff walk to Matty Alou and then retired 15 batters in a row before Law himself got the first Pirate hit, a single in the sixth.

Law later scored on a single by Roberto Clemente, his 1,999th career hit. The Dodgers scored in the fourth when Jim Lefebvre tripled to left center, driving in Jim Gilliam who had walked.

Other games saw Atlanta beat St. Louis 7-4, Chicago club Cincinnati 11-3 and Philadelphia take Houston 3-1.

In the American League, Cleveland beat Baltimore 4-1, Detroit knocked off Chicago 7-5 in 10 innings and New York took California 5-2.

Lou Johnson started the Dodger 10th with an infield hit and then Law suffered a fatal lapse, walking Jim Barberi, batting for Sutton, and West Parker, loading the bases. Pete Mikkelson then came in and walked Gilliam before surrendering Fairly's hit.

Tim McCarver and Charlie Smith each drove in two runs and the Braves snapped a four-game losing streak. Jerry Buchek hit a solo homer for the Cards. Steve Carlton couldn't hold on to a four-run lead and was shelved in the sixth.

Cincinnati's eight-game win streak came to an end as Don Kessinger got four hits for the Cubs and Billy Williams drove in four runs. Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs.

Rich Allen tripled in a run and scored himself in the sixth inning in the Phillies' triumph over Houston. Winning pitcher Larry Jackson gave up a homer to Dave Nicholson and worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth.

Prince Saim, who has not won a race since taking the rich Garden State Stakes last fall, Rehabilitate, still looking for his first victory of the year; Tequila, hero of Monmouth's Choice Stakes, and Deck Hand and Federalist Boy, both in-and-out performers, round out the field.

With 10 starters the Sweepstakes Classic will be by far the richest race on Saturdays national card.

Travelers Move Within One Game

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers moved to within one game of clinching the Texas League baseball title Thursday night with a 5-2 victory over El Paso.

Even if Arkansas lost its four remaining games while Amarillo won all six still on its schedule, the Travelers would tie for the title.

Brian Sinnott held El Paso at bay until the eighth inning when the Sun Kings got four of their nine hits and all of their runs.

The Travelers grouped four hits for two runs in the fifth inning, then wrapped up the victory with three unearned runs in the eighth.

Elsewhere in the league, Amarillo took a 4-2 beating at the hands of Austin and Albuquerque beat Dallas-Fort Worth 5-3.

Bobcats Open Tonight Against Arkadelphia, First Game of Season

LARRY DON WRIGHT
Star Sports Writer
The Hope Bobcats will kick-off the 1966 football season at 7:30 Friday night when they meet up with the Arkadelphia Bulldogs in District 4AA tussle at Hammons Stadium.

Bobcat head Coach Freddie Glaze, in his second year at Hope, and his varsity squad of 36, begin their eleven-game schedule hopeful of marked improvement over seven losses.

This year's squad appears to be much similar to that of '65 in the size and depth departments with perhaps a slight edge in experience.

However the big problem last season was the unusual number of injuries which constantly plagued the team. Some weeks Glaze and his staff had to prepare for games without the service of as many as eight players who were starters at one time or another during the season.

Therefore if the '66 team can find themselves right in the big middle of important 4AA action.

At any rate Friday night's battle will be the first test of many this fall for the untied Hope boys and to be sure the Cats have their work cut out.

Arkadelphia, also operating off of a 4-7 mark in '65, could be the District giant — Killer this season if it can compensate for its disadvantage in size.

The Badgers will be under the direction of new head coach Winston Duke but the switch isn't expected to affect the team's improvement.

In comparison, the two teams look about equal. Hope finished fifth in the district standings last year just ahead of the Badgers who completed the season for sixth with Magnolia. Although the season records were identical the Cats conference mark was a shade better a 3-5 compared to Arkadelphia's 2-6.

The Bobcats took last year's game by the score of 16-0 at Haygood Stadium in Arkadelphia.

Hope returns fourteen lettermen while the Badgers keep eleven but both teams will be relying heavily on inexperienced players at many key positions.

Generally speaking size won't be a factor since the two squads are expected to run about the same in this category with the only really big person on the field being the Badgers 230-pound tackle Bill McDonald.

Coach Duke has said that he feels Arkadelphia will have to rely alot on its passing game and the combination here might well be a better than average passer in senior QB Tommy Ellledge and noted receiver Lee Kuyper.

The Bobcats will probably defeat the Badgers.

Fatigue Plays Big Part in Carling Meet

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The magic names of golf, including top Americans, stood on the fringe at the halfway mark of the $200,000 Carling Championship today and voiced almost unanimous fatigue.

Those who seemingly were not tired included Bert Yancey, 28, of Radnor, Pa., who led at 141, and Kel Nagle, 47, of Australia, one shot behind.

As the field narrowed to the low 75 and ties for the $35,000 first prize, the mystery was what has happened to Bill Casper, U.S. Open champion, who rated at 147, and Doug Sanders, Ojai, Calif., at 150 along with Gay Brewer, who is among the top six money winners on the U.S. circuit.

"I'm so tired of playing golf I can't hit the greens anymore with a wedge," said Casper.

"I'm really weary," said Sanders.

"I'm dead beat," said Phil Rodgers, of La Jolla, Calif., who failed to qualify with 154.

Bruce Devlin of Australia, who shot a solid 73-70 for 143, was even more emphatic.

"I'm sick and tired of hitting a golf ball," he said. "I'm going to play three more tournaments plus the Canada Cup and they won't see me for a long time."

Thus Yancey, Nagle and others such as Mike Fetchick of Glen Head, N.Y., who has 143, and Terry Dill of Mule Shoe, Tex., who has 144, are able to catch the big wheels.

The field took off today in the third round over Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard par 73 course.

Chuck McKinley, of Port Washington, N.Y., like Seixas another former United States star now semi-retired from tennis, defeated Chris Bovett of Australia, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1.

Nancy Kichey of San Angelo was the highest seeded player among the women in action as she protected her No. 3 ranking by outlasting Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif., 6-6, 6-2.

Virginia Wade, No. 7, of Great Britain, ousted Gail Sherill of Australia, 6-2, 6-1.

pend mostly on their running game with two experienced running backs in senior fullback, Freddie Easterling and junior wingback Danny Turner but may come out chucking at anytime with two - time All - District pass catcher Stan Parris on the receiving end.

Parris however has been moved this season from end to a new post at tailback and will now get a chance to try his hand at running with the ball as well as catching it. His exceptional speed of 10.6 seconds in the 100-yard dash may prove invaluable to Hope's running game.

If senior QB Mike Westbrook comes through the Cats could possibly boast a backfield punch as exciting as any in 4AA.

Westbrook started last year at fullback but missed most of the season due to injury. Therefore he hasn't played QB since Jr. High.

The Bobcat forward wall which will be anchored by 170 pound stout guard Dennis Turner and 185 - pound tackle David Fincher, is around average size and may well determine Hope's success this fall.

Parris who also plays safety will head the defensive secondary against the Badger's passing Friday night. His performance in '65 which consisted of seventeen pass interceptions earned him a spot on the All - District defensive team.

But elsewhere in the defensive secondary are junior halfbacks Mike Murphy and Allan Phillips who are still untested.

One point of interest about the game is that the head coach of both teams once played for the opponent school.

Bobcat Coach Freddie Glaze was a All-Star quarterback at Arkadelphia during his high school days while Badger Coach Winston Duke first gained grid recognition as a star at Hope.

All in all the game should be a rough and closely matched affair. The pre - game ceremonies begin at 7:15 and the kickoff is slated for 7:30 at Hammons Stadium.

Name Out of Past Slams Tennis Stars

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Vic Seixas, a name from the past, brought back memories to tennis fans and took away center court from advancing favorites Thursday in the opening round of the U.S. National Championships.

Top-seeded Manuel Santana of Spain, Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Tony Roche of Australia all moved along with little trouble, leaving Seixas, a star from yesteryear, to supply the action.

The veteran from Villanova, Pa., who won this title in 1954 and Wimbledon a year earlier, upset Stan Smith, 20-year-old former U.S. National junior king from Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

"No, I didn't think I was sunk when I found myself in a fifth set with Smith," said Seixas, who will be 43 Tuesday. "But I sure as heck tightened up, especially in that final game when I had him on the hook. That's what lack of tournament competition does to you. I never used to play that way. I used to tear after 'em."

Santana, the defending champion and winner at Wimbledon this year, breezed past Fred Berli of Switzerland, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. Berli was a last-minute substitute for John Sharpe of Canada.

Drysdale, No. 6, who lost in last year's finals to Santana, had little trouble with Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

Ashe, however, encountered some problems. Returning from a 6-month hitch in the Army, the No. 5 seed showed some signs of rustiness before disposing of Lamar Roemer of Houston, 15-13, 6-2, 6-0.

Fourth-ranked Roche eliminated Marcello Lara of Mexico, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Chuck McKinley, of Port Washington, N.Y., like Seixas another former United States star now semi-retired from tennis, defeated Chris Bovett of Australia, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1.

Nancy Kichey of San Angelo was the highest seeded player among the women in action as she protected her No. 3 ranking by outlasting Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif., 6-6, 6-2.

Pro Leagues to Get Down to Business

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League still is playing exhibition games but the American Football League gets down to serious work this weekend with a three-game opening program.

In the old days the pro clubs would just be going to training camp on Labor Day. Now they start in early July and keep going until mid-January.

The big game of the opening weekend is Buffalo at San Diego, the two clubs expected to fight it out again for the AFL title.

Sid Gillman is said to have posted in his office a headline from a newspaper after the 1965 title game. It reads: "Kemp, Bills Humble Chargers, 23-0."

If Sid has his way, the Chargers will come out in a vengeful mood. However, San Diego has been hot and cold, as usual, in exhibitions but losing to Oakland and Kansas City. The John Hadl-Lance Alworth combo is the key.

Buffalo has a 3-1 exhibition record, losing only to the New York Jets last week. Joe Collier, successor to Lou Saban, is anxious to get off on the right foot.

The opening program has one game each on Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. New York, Boston and Kansas City have byes.

The National Football League does not open until next weekend.

Here are the week's picks:
Friday Night

Oakland 28, Miami 7 — The Dolphins are still struggling to find the answers and are not ready to handle a strong contender like the Raiders, Oakland started to click against Denver last week and should handle Miami, the expansion team, with ease.

Saturday Night
Houston 21, Denver 14 — Although both go into the opener with 1-3 exhibition records, Walley Lemm's "New Era" club at Houston should win. Denver beat Houston twice last year but this is a new season and big Ernie Ladd has joined the Oilers. George Blanda over the best the Broncos can offer.

Sunday Afternoon
San Diego 28, Buffalo 24 — Bills' tough defense let down against Jets last week and can't afford to do any coasting against the Chargers' explosive attack. With the big prize at the end of the season, a game with the NFL champ, both teams should be sharp and ready for this early meeting.

Beman Leads National Amateurs

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Dean Beman carried a four-stroke lead into the third round of the National Amateur Golf Championship today but the 28-year-old insurance executive said he doesn't intend to sit on it.

"I'm going to attack this course," he said Thursday after firing a three-under-par 67 over the tricky Merion Golf Club layout for a 36-hole total of 138 — only subpar card in the field.

"I'm going to play as if I'm two strokes behind. I don't know how to play any other way."

Closest to Beman, a two-time National Amateur champion, as the final field of 60 left the tees today — were Roger McManus, a 42-year-old

'A Pride of Accomplishment' AFL Wins Its 'Acceptance'

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — For six years, the American Football League heard why it was inferior to the National League. Then last June 8, about 4 p.m. Eastern time, some 360 employees of nine AFL teams switched on their radios or picked up their local papers and learned they no longer were inferior, but equal.

"Acceptance," said Jim Tyrer of the Kansas City Chiefs, "is what we've been fighting for all these years and now we have it. They accepted our ability when they decided to go through with the merger."

Tyrer, a six-year man with the Chiefs, was questioned in a special pool of AFL player representatives to determine reaction to the merger.

Denver's Eldon Danenhauer, another six-year man, served as the Broncos' player representative until a few weeks ago when he announced his retirement from pro football to enter business. His sentiments, however, speak for most of the players who have been in the AFL since its inception.

"I feel a pride of accomplishment in the merger," Danenhauer said. "We had to overcome an awful lot of gripes from their side over the years. Now they've accepted us."

Jack Kemp of the Buffalo Bills is another charter member of the AFL.

"My first reaction," he said, "was elation. Those of us who have grown up with the league are proud of its growth."

"My main worry now is preserving the identity of the American League after 1970 when everything goes into effect."

And how will the AFL fare in competition with the NFL? "I think we're very close to the NFL in personnel," said Boston's Tom Addison, who also played in the NFL with the Colts and Eagles. "What we lack is depth. They've simply had more players to work with."

"When you look at some of the individuals we have in this league, they're stronger than some of the NFL and vice-versa," Danenhauer said. "I don't think there is any one team in our league that would be embarrassed in a game against the NFL. Buffalo, Kansas City and San Diego can match their top teams and Denver, New York, Houston, Boston and Oakland can match their middle teams."

"I don't agree either that they have the stronger quarterbacks. How many Unitases and Starrs are there? Jack Kemp could hold his own in the NFL and John Hadl (San Diego) is a very learned quarterback. Joe Namath (New York) has yet to reach his potential."

"I've always maintained," said Houston's Fred Glick, "that our stronger teams are on par with theirs. Now we'll find out."

"We've heard a lot," Tyrer said, "how our quarterbacks and defensive secondary can't match theirs. I don't believe it. Football is a game of mental attitude. The team that makes the least mistakes the day of the championship game will win. I don't believe in paper comparisons. The only real comparison is out there on the field."

"The main thing in everyone's mind," adds Ernie Wright of San Diego, "is the competition between the leagues. The championship is going to be a catalyst for better performances all year. If you win that game, it's going to be a nice Christmas."

Switching to a totally different area, the American League's pension plan has caused concern among some of the representatives.

Jack Kemp, president of the AFL Players Association, also is a member of the pension committee. "The pension," he said, "will be brought to parity with the NFL by 1970. I have been assured that I will sit down with the league commissioner and Mr. Ralph Wilson (also members of the committee) and pursue the means by which we can upgrade the plan for those founding players who will retire before 1970."

"I feel it is the good intention of the owners, and the players association to maximize the retirement plan for these players at the earliest possible date."

On the subject of salaries, options and possible anti-trust action against pro football, Kemp's opinion was considerably shorter: "No comment."

The other representatives, however, were more talkative.

"I don't think the vets will see a lot of the money," said Oakland's Wayne Hawkins. "The owners will try to recoup the money they've given out the last few years in rookie bonuses. It's just smart business to save and make a profit. They should make it, too."

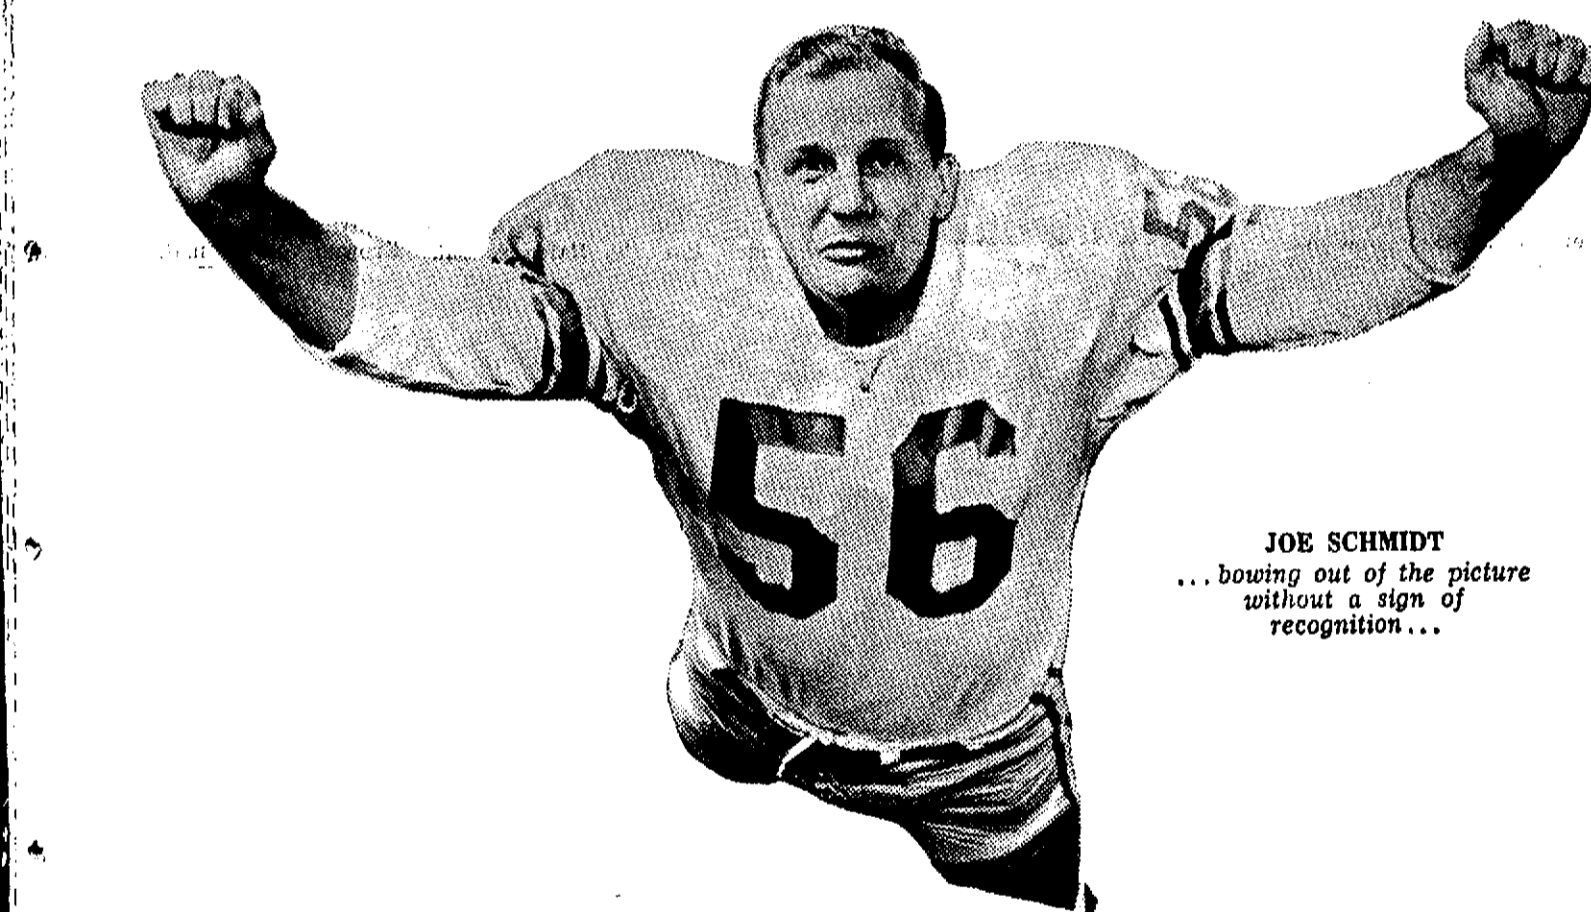

"Already the people in the Bay Area are talking about a game between the Raiders and 49ers. They won't be able to build a stadium big enough to accommodate the fans for that one."

As for options . . .

"The option," Addison said, "is sort of shot with the merger. The only place you can go now is Canada—if you want to play there."

"Playing out options isn't discussed too much," Wright said. "Basically, the player feels it's a battle he can't win. Through the years anyone playing out his option . . . well, his chances of getting with another club were almost nil."

REQUIEM FOR A LINEBACKER

JOE SCHMIDT
... bowing out of the picture
without a sign of recognition...

Lions' Schmidt, Best of Moderns, Fades Away Without Any Fanfare

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DETROIT, Mich.—(NEA)—For his 13 years in uniform with the Detroit Lions, Joe Schmidt can display two deeply scarred shoulders, a lot less hair than he used to have and a lot of memories.

Those are his personal mementos. From the Lions, he has nothing tangible, not even the tribute of a day honoring his long service.

In this society, where deification of the football hero takes on the frequency of an old pagan rite (even old Roosevelt Brown, an offensive tackle, got a "day" at Yankee Stadium last year), it's ridiculous that the greatest middle linebacker in the history of football has been allowed to pass out of the active ranks with hardly a murmur of acclamation. Joe Schmidt has retired.

Only the professionals, and the man on the street in Detroit, really recognized the supremacy of Schmidt as a defensive player. Television shows were made around Sam Huff of the New York Giants, but when it came to all-pro time, Schmidt was the man. The players of the National Football League, who knew best, selected him to the NEA All-Players, All-Pro team nine years consecutively, from 1955 through 1963. He was the defensive leader of Lion teams that dominated the Western Conference of the NFL in three of his first five seasons as a pro.

Even last year, at the relatively advanced age of 33, he made a productive comeback from two shoulder operations. Joe had threatened to retire before the '65 campaign but was persuaded to sign a two-year contract.

Why isn't he fulfilling the full tenure of that pact?

The official line is that the Lions didn't ask Joe back, that his retirement was by mutual consent. And on the surface it looks like that because the Lions have retained Joe as a part-time coach in charge of their linebacking corps, concentrating particularly on the training of young Mike Lucci as his successor.

But a little probing reveals that the Lions, once a team of bravado, are in the dumps of despair. They're being generally consigned to last place in the West this year. The walk-outs of veterans, such as all-pro tackle Roger Brown, all-pro guard John Gordy, punter-flanker Pat Studstill and defensive back Bruce Maher, at various times during the training camp, were a symptom of general unrest.

Coach Harry Gilmer hasn't shown yet that he has complete control of the club and wasn't helped by his coddling of problem boy Joe Don Looney a year ago. Choosing Milt Plum as his quarterback and shipping away Earl Morrall (to the New York Giants, who greeted him like manna) hasn't made Harry look good, either. The offense moves the ball with the elan of a guy cleaning up after a Saturday night party.

In this climate, Schmidt preferred to quit, just as Terry Barr, a tremendous flanker (and Joe's business partner) did.

The Lions have been muddling through a lackadaisical exhibition schedule, and Joe has had to bleed with them.

"It's tough to stand on the sidelines," he admits, "and watch the action. It involves guys you've played with and against. It's quite a change and it's kind of hard to hold your emotions back. Occasionally, I get carried away."

But not enough to put a uniform back on and make the public address system at Tiger Stadium echo to the repeated refrain of "Tackle by Schmidt."

"There are times," he smiles, "when I feel like getting in there. You start to itch at game time. Then I think of training camp and the hard work."

They won't have to hold a benefit for Schmidt. Besides his coaching assistance, he has an insurance business in Detroit and is a manufacturer's representative. His smooth personality makes him a natural in those fields, too.

But he was also one helluva linebacker—for 13 dedicated, dramatic years, in case the management of the Lions needs to be reminded.

Pro Charts

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

AFL ---Denver Broncos

OFFENSE

PASSING—Knee-plagued John McCormick is a bright new hope of '66, just as he was in '65, '64, '63—but who knows how long his hinge will hold up? Or if he's any good anyhow? So young Mickey Slaughter remains nominally the No. 1 quarterback. RATING—C

RECEIVING—Old reliable, Lionel Taylor, will always catch his share. Not fast, but the most prolific grabber in football. Bob Scarpito is adequate as a flanker. Al Denson gets the top spot at tight end since Hewitt Dixon was traded. Behind them nothing but unproven rookies. RATING—B—

RUNNING—The defection of Cookie Gilchrist hurts as much for lack of blocking as for his bulldozing. Whatever you say about him, Cookie produced on the field. Now Wendell Hayes has to play fullback, with Abner Haynes (making a good comeback) or Charley Mitchell as running mate. RATING—C+

KICKING—Gary Kroner could lose out to Billy Ray Fletcher, a rookie, as the placekicker. There's room for improvement. Scarpito still does the punting. You can describe them as acceptable mediocrities. RATING—B—

DEFENSE

LINE—Got an idea of how desperate they are when George Tarasovic, a Steeler castoff, has to be enlisted to play tackle or end. There'll be plenty of juggling before they're through. Only man who seems certain to stay

John McCormick

Willie Brown

rooted is tackle Ray Jacobs, who's settled down as a steady pro. Maybe Max Leetow will start to live up to his physical potential. RATING—C—

LINEBACKING—The old pro, Archie Matsos, mans the middle with fire, and not much size. John Bramlett, a rookie wowed a year ago, should get better as he knows his way around. They've made Jim Thibert over from right and to round the crew out, Ron Stranti is a rookie who could help. RATING—C+

SECONDARY—They've got some proven performers, like Willie Brown of the left corner, who's been all-AFL, and Austin Gonsoulin, a Bronco original at safety. A couple of rookies threaten to squeeze into regular jobs—like Bob Richardson of UCLA and Galdie Sellers, a find from Grambling. RATING—B

SUMMARY—Even without Cookie Gilchrist, the Broncos show a proclivity for moving the ball in big gulps, but their defensive unit will get them in trouble. It's pathetic. What it lacks in size, it also lacks in class. And the offensive line isn't stable enough to give the Broncos ball control. Coach Mac Speedie has a long fall ahead. PREDICTION—FOURTH.

AFL ---Oakland Raiders

OFFENSE

PASSING—With Cotton Davidson recovered from the lame arm that kept him out all last year, the Raiders figure they've got good balance again between his scrambling type and Tom Flores' pocket passing. The trick is to spot them exactly right for the situation. RATING—B

RECEIVING—With Art Powell in the fold, there's always the threat of the bomb. Fred Biletnikoff's starting to come fast as the flanker, and Larry Todd can spell both of them off. Tight end situation is looking up, too, with Bill Cannon showing improvement there and Tom Mitchell, a rookie, the hope of the future. RATING—A—

RUNNING—There's no doubt about what Clemon Daniels can do as the running halfback, but there's still doubt about his running mate. That'll disappear when Raiders land Cookie Gilchrist. Roger Hagberg's a holdover possibility, but ex-Bronco Hewitt Dixon is the eventual job holder. Rookie Pete Bonaszak will see some action. RATING—B

LINE—The old standbys, Jim Otto at center and Wayne Hawkins at guard, stabilize a crew of young huskies. Sophs Bob Stryus and Harry Schuh figure to man the tackle positions. The other guard could be rookie Dick Tyson or George Flint, ex-Buffalo. Figures to be a nice blend of age and experience, though there could be a depth problem at tackle. RATING—B+

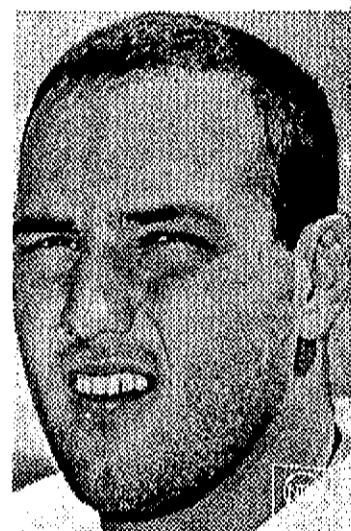

KICKING—Again in the hands—rather feet—of Mike Mercer, the double duty man who handles both the punting and placekicking chores to the relative satisfaction of Coach Johnny Rauch. RATING—B

DEFENSE

LINE—Last year's alignment of Ben Davidson and Ike Lassiter at the ends, Dave Costa and Dan Birdwell at the tackles will be hard pressed to stay intact. Mainly because Tom Keating, acquired from Bills, will squeeze into

Wayne Hawkins

Dave Costa

one of the tackle spots and Carleton Oats looks ready to be more than perennally promising as an end. RATING—B+

LINEBACKING—Could be the soft spot of the Raider defense. That's not finding fault with Bill Budness, who'll hold down the middle, or Gus Otto, and J. R. Williamson on the corners. They're respectable players. But, there's no real team leader in this vital category and the men behind them aren't much. RATING—B—

SECONDARY—So much talent they don't know what to do with all of them. Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson are step corner backs, but how can you keep a brilliant rookie talent like Rodger Bird inactive? Or where do you play Willie Williams, who defected from the Giants? Warren Powers and Howie Williams are the top safeties—so far. RATING—A—

SUMMARY—If the Chargers are ever going to be toppled in the West, this should be the year for the Raiders to do it. They'll miss the active field leadership of Al Davis, but he's still in the organization as top brass. On the playing level, the quarterbacks have to produce and so does Gilchrist. They're a young and eager team. PREDICTION—FIRST.

AFL ---Kansas City Chiefs

Bobby Bell

Chris Burford

OFFENSE

PASSING—Veteran Len Dawson refuses to step down to make room for agile Pete Bearhard, eager to launch his quarterback career as a pro. In fact, Lenny's arm has increased in strength. But at least Pete figures to get more work than last two years. RATING—B

RECEIVING—Chiefs thought so much of flanker Otis Taylor, they were ready to give up regular Frank Jackson in expansion. Chris Burford, old reliable, is back with a mended knee to reclaim split end job, spelled by Frank Pitts. And tight end belongs, as always, to all-league Fred Arbanas. RATING—B+

RUNNING—Tragic death of Mack Lee Hill last season shocked Chiefs emotionally, also left a void. Curtis McClinton should move over to fullback without any trouble. But who runs with him? Ott-injured Bert Coan, bad-backed Burton or neophyte Mike Garrett? It's a question Coach Hank Stram would like to answer. RATING—B—

LINE—Exactly the same look as last year: Jon Gilliam at center, Ed Budde and Curt Merz at guards, all-AFL Jim Tyrer and Dave Hill at tackles. Depth is the big problem. Hatch Rosdahl has been moved to offense for insurance. But they're in trouble if any of the tackles get hurt because the reserves are definitely untried. RATING—B

KICKING—Jerrell Wilson is the reigning punter in the AFL, might also work into a running halfback role as regular. Tommy Brooker hangs on as the spare tight end and a consistent enough place kicker. RATING—B+

DEFENSE

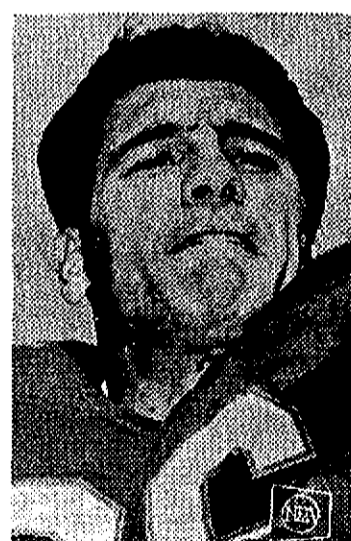

LINE—Like offense, the reserve situation is ticklish. Panic was almost on when tackle Al Latham crashed an eve at training, but he's expected back. Good first line strength with Latham, Buck Buchanan, Jerry Mays and Chuck Hurston. Somewhere they'll have to make room for Aaron Brown, prize newcomer on club this year. RATING—B—

LINEBACKING—No change at all. And no signs of slowing up among Sherill Headrick, the middle man, and corner kids E. J. Holub and Bobby Bell. They have great range as well as hitting ability. Bell as good as any in game. Smokey Stover, Walt Corey provide usual depth. RATING—A SECONDARY—Same unit here, too, with Fred Williamson and Willie Mitchell on corners. Johnny Robinson and Bobby Hunt at safeties. There's a second quartet of experienced men right behind them, too, led by Solomon Brannon on corner and Bobby Ply at safety. RATING—B—

SUMMARY—On paper, the Chiefs look good at least when it comes to their starting units. But they always have. Mostly homegrown, still young, they possess every attribute of a potential champion with the possible deficiency of good reserves. The pressure is on them now to operate as a cohesive team. PREDICTION—THIRD.

AFL ---BUFFALO BILLS

George Saimes

Wray Carlton

OFFENSE

PASSING—Young Daryle Lamonica's passing has sharpened up in camp, but to what avail? Coach Joel Collier looks like a one-quarterback man and he's got to stick with Jack Kemp, the sometimes erratic vet who got "em" a title the last two years. RATING—B+

RECEIVING—Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass, out almost all last year, are back in full gallop. If they pause a step, rookie Bobby Crockett of Arkansas will step past them. For tight end, Paul Costa's ready to blossom out as an all-league choice. He's huge and fast. RATING—B+

RUNNING—Nondescript, which it was last year, too. But Bills feel Wray Carlton is adequate at fullback. There's a three-way battle for halfback: holdover Bobby Smith and rookies Bobby Burnett, Bill Bailey. Smith will probably hold on. There's a rookie fullback, too, who looks good—Allen Smith of Fort Valley State. RATING—C

LINE—Career of center Dave Behrmann may be at end because of back operation, but Al Bemiller is an old hand over the ball. Standouts up front remain tackle Steve Barber, guard Billy Shaw. Rich Hudson, Joe O'Donnell also fit snugly, though Joe's being pushed for his guard job by Remi Prudhomme. Could use a backup tackle for depth. RATING—B+

KICKING—If Booth Lusteg does as well as he started out, they'll hardly notice Gogolak's absence. Pete wasn't that hot last year, anyhow. The punting is entrusted to the capable toe of Paul Maguire. RATING—B

DEFENSE

LINE—The same Big Four prevails, with an added thrust from Tom Sestak at tackle because his knee's healed, and he's a ranging terror again. He and Jim Dunaway make up finest interior pair in AFL. Ends Tom Day, Roland McDole are generally underrated. The class drops off when they go to the reserve strength, led by Henry Schmidt. RATING—A—

LINEBACKING—Individually, the only one who attracts much attention is corner man Mike Stratton, but Buffalo's quite satisfied with the work of veterans Harry Jacobs in the middle, John Tracey on the strong side. If they ever lag, youngsters Bill Laskey and Marty Schottenheimer are eager for exercise. RATING—B

SECONDARY—Two all-league types are at their peak: Butch Byrd at halfback. George Saimes at free safety. Booker Edgerson has reclaimed corner job from Charley Warner, but now must fight off newcomer Charley King. Hagood Clark runs ahead of Gene Sykes at safety. And there are others. RATING—B

SUMMARY—Coach Joel Collier, in debut, is in tough position of not being able to improve on record. Bills are two time champs, and they have virtually the same crew back intact, which makes them the logical favorites. Their strength is in their lines. But they'll need another inspirational year from Kemp to keep on top. PREDICTION—SECOND.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Parkinson's Disease Seen
In Shaking Extremities
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is the shaking of Parkinson's disease ever limited to the foot?
A—This disease often starts in one leg or the fingers of one hand then progresses to involve both sides. There may also be shaking of the head.
By conscious effort the shaking in one limb can sometimes be controlled for a few seconds but this may be accompanied by an increased shaking on the opposite side. The shaking ceases during sleep.

Q—Is Parkinson's disease inherited?
A—Although the evidence for this is inconclusive, about 6 per cent of the victims are closely related to persons who had this disease.

Q—My husband has cerebral palsy. Our doctor says it started in his childhood. He is now in his late 50s and is still able to do a full day's work. How long will this disease progress?
A—The term "cerebral palsy" is applied to several disorders that involve the motor nerves (those that control voluntary movement as opposed to sensory nerves). These diseases usually start in childhood but the exact time when the damage occurred is often hard to determine. The severity varies widely but, as a general rule, the disease does not progress.

Q—My doctor says I have pseudobulbar palsy. He advises retirement but no medicine. What causes it and what treatment do you advise?
A—In this disease there is damage to the brain centers that control the motor nerves.
It is usually caused by a blood clot in a small artery and is seen in persons with advanced hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. The onset is gradual with spells of dizziness that clear up in a

Crossett
Is Choice
to Repeat

CROSSETT — Two-platoon football was good to Crossett's Eagles last season — it enabled them to go 8-2-2 and win the Region 4AA crown.

Jack Robey, the head coach of that edition of Eagles moved on to Henderson State Teachers, his alma mater, but he has turned over 18 lettermen to John Pierce, his replacement.

Pierce, an assistant coach to Robey, is a veteran of warfare that this tough region is known for, having coached at Hope as well as at Crossett and he knows what he's in for.

Since the Eagles are loaded with letterman most everyone is picking them to repeat as champions and Pierce hasn't said they shouldn't be the favorite; but he, seemingly, would rather not use two platoons.

Crossett is loaded with prime football talent, including plenty of well-aged heavy beef.

First and foremost of the big men is tackle Karl Salb, one of the bluest-blue chip athletes anywhere.

Salb, a 6-foot-3, 230-pounder, was the first Arkansas prepster to hurl the shot put over 60 feet and he's a swift, quick footballer who is fast acquiring knack for getting after the ball-carrier in a ferocious frame of mind.

Other athletes who'll see a lot of play for Pierce and his Eagles are end David Smith (160), guard Carl Leonard (190) and a whale of a football player, right guard Ronnie Brooks (187), tackles Freddie Guin (205), Mike Sturdivant (215), and Willard Tauton, end and Craig Metcalf.

Three quarterbacks are handy in Kimball Walton, Tommy Holliman and Fred Huntsman. At tailback is Jim Riley, a 155 pound track star. The fullback will be Mike Brown (162) or Tom Elliott (150).

The slot back is Riley Craig, a swift 155-pounder and a starter a year ago.

Crossett has several other outstanding football players and it's going to take a lot of plowing to root them off the top.

Dierks Outlaws

The outlook is bright as Dierks' Outlaws return 14 lettermen from last season's 5-5 record. According to coach Morris Harville the Outlaws make up for depth and speed with desire and he thinks they are District 7-B contenders.

Two All-District players are back in fullback Danny Howard (190) and linebacker James Ward (175), who is quick and has a desire to hit.

Horatio Lions

Coach Don Cain returns three of his four running backs but heavy losses in the line could stop the Horatio Lions from equalling their 7-3-1 record of last season in the District 7-B race.

Cain lists the Lions' major weakness as depth. Horatio returns 12 lettermen, five offensively and seven on defense.

Halfbacks Otis Powell (180), Dickie Tallman and Jimmy Prickett should make the Lions tick on offense. Eddie Wall (6-4, 170) is the main pass receiver.

Bradley Bears

The Bradley Bears, who competed for the first time last season in District 8B could be the surprise team.

Coach J. W. Caldwell returns 17 lettermen, nine offensive and eight defensive. Among those are fullback David Byrd (6-2, 190), the Bears' leading ground gainer and also a fine defensive guard.

Bradley has back the passing combination of quarterback Ken Allen and end John Knott (180). Other halfbacks are Ray Gildon, John Taylor and Buddy Stevenson.

Nashville Area
To Have Plenty
Of Grid Action

NASHVILLE — Most of the football teams in the area will begin play this season on September 2nd or 3rd.

Nashville and Dierks will break open the season at Scraper Stadium September 2, and the Mineral Springs Hornets will greet Glenwood at Mineral Springs September 3.

For Nashville, that opener will be the only home game in September. The Scrappers will be on the road to Ashdown, Arkadelphia and Gurdon. The second home game will be on October 14th when they meet the DeQueen Leopards.

Foreman

The Foreman Alligators should be an improved team after winning only one game last season but too many sophomores keep them from a serious bid at the District 7B title.

Coach Hoyt Horn expects outstanding performances from quarterback Butch Murray, halfback Steve Pond and end Pat Reed. The sophomores are coming from an undefeated season.

Mineral Springs

With 16 lettermen returning, and from almost every position, coach Herman McAllister thinks his Mineral Springs Hornets could rise from a 3-5-2 showing last year to the near top in the District 7B race.

All-district halfback Phillip Norwood (6-2, 185), along with backs Jeff Bell, Larry Erwin and Bruce Corbell give the Hornets a seasoned backfield.

However, Mineral Springs is just as well situated in the line. Returning are tackles Roy Backus (220) and Bill Mitchell, last years' starters.

Quarterback Is Problem at Prescott

If Prescott can find a quarterback the Curly Wolves, with good overall experience, could be a threat in District 7A.

The Wolves have 10 seniors among the returning starters at Jackie Wilson, listed at quarterback at present, was a defensive fixture last year.

Prescott returns two potentially outstanding backs. Bob Cause is a 5-9, 160-pound all-state halfback, has good moves and speed and gives a big effort. David Pry, 5-11, 180, is fair speed for a fullback and enjoys contact. "He likes to hit," said Jim Barnett, who coached Prescott last year. "He's as tough as they come."

Outstanding linemen are guards David MacDonald (175) and Mike Harris (170) and linebacker Bob Zumwalt (165).

Fairview to Be Shy on Experience

CAMDEN — Camden Fairview, like Smackover and Hope, is still in a rebuilding stage and returns only six lettermen from a 2-7-2 team.

It will lack speed and depth but has some size and a few very good football players.

One of the best in the state is tackle Alvie Simmering, 6-foot-1, 200-pounder.

Other regulars are ends Gary Beavers (180), and Gary Ryker (192), quarterback Jimmy Boyette (155) and fullback Sandy Nutt (178).

Things may start looking better for the Cardinals after this year, but coach George Branch is going to have his hands full with the other members of Region 4AA this season.

RED KNEW THE REDS
BOSTON (AP) — The Russians' recent pullout against American basketball and track and field teams didn't surprise Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics.

"The last time they pulled out it cost me $2,000," says Auerbach. "That was a couple of years ago when they backed out of meeting the Celtics in Boston. I blew two grand on promotions and tickets."

Hopes Same At Gurdon

GURDON — Gurdon's Go Devils finished an even 5-5 last season, and, with only three returning seniors starting on offense, coach Henry Miller expects much of the same from this season's squad.

Terry Hughes at halfback and Joe Childers at fullback constitute the seniors on the starting eleven. Wayne Peoples, a halfback used mainly on defense, and David Bryan and center Randy McClure are the top junior prospects.

Miller expects defense to be the District 7A squad's strong point. A lack of depth on the bench, plus the lack of seniors, slows the team.

New Coach Hopeful for the Badgers

ARKADELPHIA — The Arkadelphia Badgers made it out of the cellar last year, and Winston Duke, who assisted Calvin Neal in getting the Badgers up, now takes over the head reigns and will have 11 returning lettermen to jump into the 1966 campaign.

Things are looking brighter for the Badgers, and Duke, the former Hope and Ouachita star, is one of the hardest working young men in the coaching business. He's optimistic about his team's continued improvement.

However, most of this year's crop are seniors and Duke already realizes that he'll have to work a little harder next year. But right now he thinks that his team is going to surprise a few clubs and win several ball games.

Returning lettermen, most of whom started, are end Ray Estes (170), center Steve Heron (150), guard-linebacker Billy Nix (165), halfback Lee Kuyper (155), quarterback Tommy Elledge (155), halfback Gerry Turner (145), tackle Wendell Ketchum (170), fullback Larry Golden (170), end Pete Stafford (155), halfback Ronnie Harrison (145) and fullback James Stevenson (160).

Bill McDonald, a 6-foot-4, 240-pounder had knee surgery and is a doubtful performer. He still could help. He started last year. "This is by far the best

Quarterback Gone, Dierks Loses Punch

DIERKS — "I thought we'd be a contender until we lost our quarterback, but now if we're lucky we may finish third," said Coach Morris Harville of the district 7B Dierks Outlaws.

Although the Outlaws' starting quarterback is ineligible, the Dierks backfield will still be strong with all-district fullback Danny Howard and honorable mention all-state tailback Danny Howard.

Other returnees are ends James Davis and Jerry Kirby, tackles Butch Roberts and David Liles and guard Roger Cox.

The Outlaws finished second in the district last year with a 5-1 record.

Hogs Over Raiders

The closet Texas Tech has ever come to beating Arkansas in nine tries was a 14-8 game at Lubbock in 1958 — scoreless at halftime. But Arkansas had to rally to win 42-24 and 27-20 the last two meetings at Fayetteville.

Trojans Go For IAA Title

The Razorbacks' pre-game quarters this year will be the Town House Motel in Rogers for the three campus games, the Majestic Hotel in Hot Springs for the three Little Rock games, the Clayton House in Arlington, Tex., for the TCU game, the Ponderosa Motel in Temple, Tex., for the Texas game, the Candlelight Motel in Huntsville, Tex., for the A and M game, and the Holiday Inn in Lubbock for the Texas Tech game.

PARIS, Ark. — "We have everything you need for a winning football team except may- be speed," says Subiaco coach Holton Primm as his seasoned Trojans prepare for a tough season in Region IAA.

The Trojans return 16 letter- men off last fall's 3-6-0 club and the returning group is impres- for the Texas Tech game.

Backfield returners are quar-terback Ed Hart (150), tailback Charles Bates (190), halfback fullback Vince Neumier (175) and halfback fullback Mike Schluterman (180). Three other hopefulls are halfbacks Don Har- tung (160), John Casey (165) and David DeClerp (190).

Primm runs what he calls the "Diamond T" with the fullback planted directly behind the guard. He likes to throw and plans to utilize a combination between Hart, a seasoned vet- eran, and split-end Jim Schloss, a 6-footer who grabbed 20 com- pletions in 1965.

"Oh, we're gonna throw," grinned Primm. "And a lot of our success will depend on our passing game. Hart showed a lot of poise until we played Mc- Clellan (Little Rock) last year. We're expecting a fine year for Ed."

Up front the Trojans return center Ray Kipp (205), guard David Ahne (150), and what Primm calls his outside tackle- end Richard Seaton (185), Al- bert Uhren (180), Pat Troy (165), Mark Wewers (180), and defensive stalwarts Bob Adams (175), Bill Leding (170) and Jim Hilton (210).

"I don't think we have a single boy on the team who can run the 100 in less than 11.0," said Primm. "But, as for desire,

Faubus Ups Welfare Grants $10

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus announced Thursday that, starting Oct. 1, welfare recipients in Arkansas will find their welfare checks $10 fatter.

The governor told a news conference that he was increasing the maximum state welfare payment from $75 to $85 at a total cost of $8.5 million in state and federal funds.

The state's share of the cost is $3,007,596 a year, Faubus said.

Faubus told newsmen that A. J. (Red) Moss, state welfare commissioner, had assured him that the state has enough money to afford the increase — the 11th in Faubus' 12 years in office and the largest single increase in the state's history.

Humphrey to Get Chance in Campaign

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation gets a chance this fall to compare the stumping styles of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Both the vice president and the New York Democratic senator plan ambitious campaigning for fellow Democrats in this autumn's congressional election contests.

And they not only will cross each other's trails but may also find themselves standing side by side on some bunting-draped speaker's platform.

In fact, Humphrey told newsmen Thursday he had invited Kennedy to his home state of Minnesota to help Democratic candidates — and that he is going into Kennedy's New York, Humphrey and Kennedy have been cast as likely rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972.

With recent public opinion polls indicating Kennedy is more popular with Democrats than Humphrey or President Johnson, Republican Richard M. Nixon has suggested Johnson might decide to dump Humphrey in 1968 and choose Kennedy as his running mate for added insurance.

Kennedy told newsmen Thursday he will support Johnson and Humphrey for re-election in 1968. Beyond that, Kennedy said, he would not speculate about his political future.

Humphrey said he didn't begrudge Kennedy his following, quipped he was just glad it was a Democrat who was so popular and enthusiastic. "He can help in drawing big crowds."

Humphrey expects to draw some crowds this fall, too. He reportedly is getting more than a hundred invitations a day to fill speaking engagements.

Wallace Bent on Another Challenge

By REX THOMAS
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace, bent on another challenge of U.S. authority, gets a new weapon from the Alabama Legislature today to defy school integration guidelines.

A bill forbidding city and county school boards to make any agreement to comply with the federal guidelines has gone back to the House for concurrence.

The House, where the measure originated, was in recess when the Senate rewrote it in tougher language Wednesday and passed it. Until the House reconvenes today to complete legislative action the bill could not be sent to the governor for his certain signature.

Final passage of the anti-guidelines measure was expected to bring to a close the six-week-old special session called to appropriate additional school funds, with no mention at the outset of the impending new showdown over desegregation.

Still more state funds are appropriated in the new act to reimburse schools for part of the federal money they might lose by refusing to comply with the guidelines.

Wallace, who stood in the doorway of the University of Alabama three years ago in a dramatic but unsuccessful attempt to block the enrollment of two Negro students, chose the federal guidelines for a new confrontation.

The guidelines, which have caused considerable controversy in the South, call for speedier integration of faculties and classrooms with an alternative being a loss of federal funds.

He contended — and the new state act also says — that the integration rules laid down by the Health, Education and Welfare Department violate federal as well as state law and that HEW has no authority to order faculty integration or to assign pupils to correct racial imbalance.

Danish Princess Reported in Love

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Ekstrabladet, a Copenhagen tabloid, reported today that Princess Margrethe, heiress to the royal Danish throne, has fallen in love with a French count and diplomat living in London.

A special correspondent in Paris reported that the princess, 26, may become engaged to Count Henri Marie Jean Andre de Laborde de Monpezat, 32, third secretary at the French Embassy in London.

Scattered Violence Hits Jackson

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Scattered incidents of violence hit Jackson Thursday night, the second straight night of trouble here.

Although the night's major clash matched a carload of whites against a carload of Negroes, city officials insisted that neither night's incidents were racial.

However, State Police Cpl. Bernard Schlenhuber of the Jackson Post told newsmen the trouble was "definitely racial" and called it a "wide-open riot." He told newsmen there had been fighting among gangs of whites and Negroes and that stores, restaurants and police cruisers had been stoned.

Jackson Police Sgt. Paul Rand told newsmen, "They're working in small groups, throwing stones. It's spotty, they're scattered and move fast."

Schlenhuber could not be reached today, but other state troopers said he got his information by telephone from the Jackson police when they called for help.

Three plate-glass windows were broken by unidentified rock throwers. At least one shot was heard by a police sergeant.

A young white expectant mother was cut superficially on the legs when, she said, Negroes stoned her car.

Jackson Police Capt. Orlo Abbott said one police car was hit by a rock.

No arrests were made Thursday night, Police had said earlier four persons had been arrested.

Local police, aided by the state police, sheriff's deputies and auxiliary police, maintained heavy patrols for a time. Jackson Police Chief Earl Miller said no large gangs of youths formed.

At least thirty-five persons were arrested Wednesday night in fighting which police said began after two white youths scuffled following a street dance. A store was robbed of 12 guns in the melee.

Rand, who investigated the incident involving the two carloads of Negroes and whites Thursday night, said the two groups accused each other of firing shots. Rand said he kept the two groups from fighting.

Don Holtrop, staff employee of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, said he toured the city during the evening and saw no incidents of violence or racial clashes.

Miss Michigan's Title Removed

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Miss Michigan's title has been removed for driving an official car unchaperoned after dark—a violation of contest rules.

Gayle Ann Chancey's title was lifted Thursday after police hunted for her overnight. She was told at her home in Muskegon of the state pageant committee's decision.

Miss Chancey, 19, will be replaced at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City this weekend by Nancy Ackert, 19.

Negro Area of Dayton Sealed Off

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The National Guard Troops patrolled the city's sealed-off Negro section today where a destruction spree by roving bands of Negro youths resulted in 23 injuries and 105 arrests.

The disturbances were touched off Thursday when a Negro was shot from a car apparently driven by whites. The man died later in a hospital.

At the peak of the disorders, gangs roamed the city's West Side, looting, stoning buses and breaking store windows.

It was the first outbreak of racial violence in this city of 270,000 which President Johnson plans to include as a stopover Monday on his Labor Day weekend tour of the Midwest.

The White House said it was aware of the situation. Mayor Dave Hall told reporters he could see "no danger whatsoever for the President."

The disorders broke out minutes after Lester Mitchell, 40, was felled Thursday morning by a shotgun blast as he swept the walk in front of his home. He succumbed to head wounds 18 hours later.

Witnesses said the shots were fired by three white men in a passing auto. Police have taken two whites into custody for questioning.

City jails were full and a county jail was pressed into service to handle the overflow. Among the suspects held were three Dayton civil rights leaders charged with inciting to riot.

A series of incidents in the morning led Hall to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to call in the National Guard. The soldiers were on the streets by early afternoon but calm was not fully restored until late Thursday night.

Dayton has a Negro population of about 70,000. About 15,000 live in the West Side area where the disorder was centered.

It is a largely rundown section through which thousands of workers must travel on their way to work at industrial plants.

Some buses carrying white workers were stoned during the course of the day.

A trip through the neighborhood showed many stores with smashed windows boarded up.

Later the street and adjacent blocks were sealed off but they were expected to be open to work-bound traffic today.

There were reports of trouble in the West Side area again Thursday night but nothing of a serious nature developed, police said.

New Commander in West Germany

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BONN, Germany (AP) — Lt. Gen. Johannes Steinhoff, credited with shooting down 167 Allied planes in World War II, today accepted the uneasy command of West Germany's air force. He had hesitated for 10 days.

His predecessor, Lt. Gen. Werner Patzki, quit in a row with Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel over the American-designed F104G Starfighter. West German Starfighters have had 62 crashes since they went into service, and there has been bitter criticism in press and Parliament.

Steinhoff's acceptance strengthened the position of von Hassel, who is in deep political trouble because two other top generals have also quit, chiefly because von Hassel authorized union organization of the armed forces.

U.S. Can't Accept Pullout Timetable

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States cannot accept a timetable for pulling U.S. forces out of South Viet Nam without a corresponding timetable for ending North Viet Nam's drive against the South.

And French President Charles de Gaulle has apparently failed to get any sign from Hanoi that she would quit her southward push.

This assessment has been reached in Washington after a reading of the full text of the speech De Gaulle delivered in Cambodia Thursday stating his views on how to try to bring peace to Southeast Asia.

The French president was regarded here as having added nothing to his previous policy statements except perhaps in injecting a time element in advocating a U.S. pullout from Viet Nam.

De Gaulle said peace negotiations would have to depend on an advance U.S. commitment to bring home American troops "within a suitable and definite time limit."

This proposal was branded here as unrealistic and unacceptable because De Gaulle did not apply it to North Viet Nam, too.

And since De Gaulle said the time is not ripe now for such an outcome and because he said France sees no prospect for success in offering to mediate at the time, it was believed here that he had found that Hanoi is sticking to a tough line.

Asks Study of British Army Cut

LONDON (AP) — President Johnson, concerned at Britain's haste to cut her Rhine army, has called on Prime Minister Harold Wilson to join American-British West German studies of the whole problem of allied defense planning in middle Europe.

British officials, reporting this today, said Wilson had advised the President of Britain's willingness to join these talks but had added the stipulation that they must not be allowed to take the steam out of current exchanges on the issue within the North Atlantic alliance.

The President's move, according to British authorities, came in a formal note to Wilson. The impression given by informants here is that the Americans are worried by evidence of British pressure on her NATO allies to approve a series of cuts in the Rhine army by October to save on overseas military spending.

A British-German mixed commission is expected to report on the matter by mid-October. The British have served notice both to the Germans and to NATO to withdraw a substantial number of the 51,000-man garrison.

There were reports of trouble in the West Side area again Thursday night but nothing of a serious nature developed, police said.

Three other attacks were reported within an 18-mile radius of the capital.

Guerrillas attacked a militia outpost 12 miles northwest of Saigon and another outpost a mile farther away. A Vietnamese spokesman said several militiamen were killed and wounded in the attacks.

Casualties on the Viet Cong side were reported from the third attack. A U.S. spokesman said a company of Vietnamese soldiers and two companies of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division killed nine Viet Cong and captured 22 more 18 miles northwest of Saigon.

U.S. B52 bombers struck at a Viet Cong troop concentration and headquarters area 35 miles southeast of Saigon.

In air action over South Viet Nam Thursday, American pilots flew 339 sorties, destroying or damaging 273 Viet Cong huts and other structures and 19 bunkers and trenches, a spokesman said. South Vietnamese pilots flew 197 sorties.

The U.S. military command announced the termination of Operation Amarillo by the 1st Infantry Division. It began Aug. 23 in an area 28 miles north of Saigon.

Jets Cut Rail Line Between Hanoi-China

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Six flights of U.S. Air Force jets cut the northwest rail line between Hanoi and Red China in 10 places Thursday; a U.S. spokesman announced, but the loss of two more planes pushed the toll of the air war against North Viet Nam past the 350 mark.

The Air Force announced that an F104 Starfighter and an A1E Skyraider were shot down by ground fire during the raids. This brought to 351 the number of U.S. planes reported lost over North Viet Nam.

Both pilots were listed as missing.

Viet Cong mines exploded in a village voting office and under a civilian bus today in an upsurge of five terrorist attacks close to Saigon. A Vietnamese spokesman said 12 persons were killed and 10 wounded in the attack on the bus.

The rash of attacks, some clearly aimed at disrupting the Sept. 11 national elections, overshadowed the ground war, which continued in a lull.

In the first military shakeup since the dismissal of a corps commander touched off a revolt in the northern provinces last spring, the South Vietnamese military junta fired its navy commander, Capt. Tran Van Phan. However, the dismissal was not expected to have political repercussions.

The junta told the U. S. Command it replaced Phan with his former chief of staff, Cmdr. Nguyen Van Anh, because Phan had failed to protect the shipping channels to Saigon.

However, informants said the Vietnamese navy had been under close watch by the junta recently because of reports that navy ships were being illegally used to carry nonmilitary cargo.

The air war over North Viet Nam also was slowed by bad weather. Torrential rains limited U.S. pilots 70 missions Thursday, about half the usual number.

In the raids on the Red River rail line to Red China, pilots reported destroying or damaging four bridges and four freight cars along the main supply route.

The American pilots also hit at oil and supply depots and transport facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong area and in North Viet Nam's southern Panhandle. They claimed damage to seven oil storage depots and said they destroyed or damaged 17 trucks, 14 barges and four anti-aircraft sites.

In the most daring of the terrorist attacks, a group of Viet Cong walked into a village voting office at Tan Thoi, 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and asked for voting information. They left behind a mine which wounded three village councilors and five other civilians.

The bus was mined 24 miles northeast of Saigon. The 12 dead included eight Vietnamese civilians and four militiamen.

Camden Has Good Sized Linemen

Camden coach Wayne Taylor may not win the Region AAA championship this year but his weight program is a winner. Taylor has five in interior line-men who weight 200 or more including Ham Singleton. Single-ton is something else. He's 6-3 and weighs 243. "He's a fine prospect," said Taylor. "He can move and none of that weight is fat. He played defense last year and he'll go both ways this year. Some of Taylor's other "heavies" are Charles Cathey (5-10, 205), John Phillips (6-1, 225), Jerry Mauldin (6-1, 220) and David Barnes (6-1, 205). "And we've got some more over 200 pounds that are coming out," said Taylor. "They haven't been out for one reason or another but they're coming out this year." Taylor prefers the weights over isometrics. "But we let them work with whatever they like. That's im-portant." Cathey will go both ways along with Singleton. Mauldin will probably play defensive tackle and Phillips defensive guard. Another two-way man will be end Scotty Graham (6-3, 190). Taylor has Ken Fairchild, a 10.0 sprinter, in the backfield along with Sonny Dedman and Mike Allen, who was ineligible last year. Dedman has gained 20 pounds to 175 since last season. The quarterback will probably be Mike Reynolds, a 175 pound junior. Reynolds has had little experience and is an erratic passer at times. Sophomore Bill Dedman (160) will be the backup man.

186 RACING DATES
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida will have 186 days of thorough-bred racing next season, starting Nov. 19 at Tropical Park and ending April 24 at Gulfstream Park. Tropical, in Coral Gables, will have a 48-day meeting end-ing on Jan. 16. Hialeah, just north of Miami, will have the choice dates of the season, running 40 days from Jan. 17 through March 3. On March 4 Gulfstream opens for 43 days. Florida downs near Tampa will have 55 racing days from Jan. 20 through March 25.

HE CAN'T SEE PGA TOUR
QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — John Marschall, Quincy Country Club golf professional who spent seven weeks on the PGA tour, says he would rather "sell a set of clubs or slacks than play golf for a living." "You meet a lot of nice guys including many club pros on the tour, but a lot of touring pros do more harm to golf than good." He charges that the Profes-sional Golfers' Association "cat-ers to the big money win-ners." A field of between 200 and 300 golfers must compete in a qualifying round on a Monday to gain the 48 to 52 spots open in major tournament usually begin-ning on Thursday, he says. But the 50 top money winners are not required to participate in the qualifying round.

FREDDIE GLAZE HEAD COACH OF HOPE BOBCATS

Coach Freddie Glaze enters his second season at Hope High School as Head Football Coach and Athletic Director.

Coach Glaze moved to Hope in the spring of 1965 from a similar position at Rison, Arkansas. He is a graduate of Arkadelphia High and Henderson State Teachers College.

During high school he was a three year letterman at quarter back while earning three more letters each in basketball and track. In addition he was named All-State in football.

At Henderson Coach Glaze was a four year letterman in football and All-AIC quarterback as well as being chosen All-AIC in baseball also.

His wife is the former Connie Harvey of Prescott. They have two children Marti Kate, three years, and a ten month old boy Grayson.

ED WHITE IS VETERAN OF COACHING STAFF

Coach Ed White is the veteran of the HHS staff as he enters his eighth year as Bobcat trainer.

Coach White, a 1950 graduate of Magnolia High School, finished his college education at Southern State in '55.

He is also an HHS math instructor.

JOE HART IS TOP ASSISTANT CAT COACH

Entering his second year at Hope is Assistant Football Coach Joe Hart. Coach Hart holds the positions of Head Track Coach and HHS Phys. Ed. Instructor.

Coach Hart attended high school at Lonoke and later graduated from Henderson he earned the rare distinction of being selected All-AIC tackle in each of his four years there.

Coach Hart and his wife, Carol, have one child, three years old Donna.

LEON REEDER NEWCOMER TO COACHING STAFF

Also a new comer to the coaching staff this season is Coach Leon Reeder who will assume the duties of Head Junior High Basketball and Track Coach and Assistant Jr. and Sr. Football Coach.

Coach Reeder is a graduate of Nashville High and Henderson State Teachers College, and earned track and basketball letters at both.

Fifteen runs were scored in the first inning of a game between Brooklyn and Cincinnati on May 21, 1952. This was one run shy of the record of 16 for a first inning set in 1894 by Boston and Baltimore.

Magnolia Hopes to Evade Injury

MAGNOLIA — If the Magnolia Panthers can keep the injury bug away from its back yard, they just might be right there fighting Camden and Crossett for the Region IVAA football title this fall.

Coach Joe Thomason returns 12 lettermen, all of whom started at one time or another in 1965, when the Panthers were unmercifully crippled by injury after injury — broken ankles, arms, legs and assorted other broken parts.

Starting offensively in the line at one time or another last season were guards Gary Lindsey (170), Wallace Storey (175) and James Antoon (175), and tackle Chuck Linam (185). Fullback Jack Pierce (165) also returns.

Jackie Brasuell, the former Razorback star has joined the Magnolia coaching staff this autumn and Coach Thomason put him to work immediately.

"We've got to find a quarterback and I've put him to work on it," says Thomason.

Brasuell is working with three prospects, two from the B-team — Mel Davis and Steve Kincaid and sophomore Mike Waters.

Other offensive players to watch are two B-team fullbacks Mike Jackson (190) and Mike Walters (195).

"If Jackson (a senior) comes through for us, we'll move Pierce to halfback and if we can find another back up fullback, we'll move Walters to halfback and that would give us a good sized back field," says Thomason.

Ricky Erwin and Randy Craig will both be fighting for backfield positions, both offensively and defensively.

Thomason admits that he won't be hurrying for backs but ends are a different story.

"At end we are hurting," he says. Dick Shanhouse, a guard will probably play a lot of offensive end as will James Richards, a 6-foot-3, 175-pounder.

Don Hollingworth is a 190 pounder that's going to play somewhere, probably at guard. Randy Ross (205) will also see a lot of action.

Defensively Thomason has several "hosses" coming back, such as tackle Newton Little (195), probably his best defensive football player.

"He's a real good ball player," says Thomason. "He also has good speed. I barely kept him off my sprint relay team last spring."

Steve Nipper (6-foot-3, 160 pounds) is a regular defensive

JOE AUSTIN TO COACH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

The newest addition to the Hope High School Coaching staff is Coach Joe Austin.

Coach Austin came to Hope this fall to fill the vacancy left by Coach Bill Mitchell as Head Basketball Coach. He is also Head Junior High Football Coach.

Coach Austin comes to Hope High from Lockesburg where he compiled an outstanding record as Senior Basketball Coach.

He attended high school at Horatio and college at Henderson and ASTC. Combined Coach Austin earned seven high school letters and three college letters in football, basketball and track.

Coach Austin and wife, Tommi, are the parents of three children: Joe-nine, Jon-five, and Lee-three.

end.

Other good prospects on defense are tackles Joe Johnston (170), and Larry McCleod (210), halfback Steve Ellis, and split end Randy Fitzhugh, the team's fastest player.

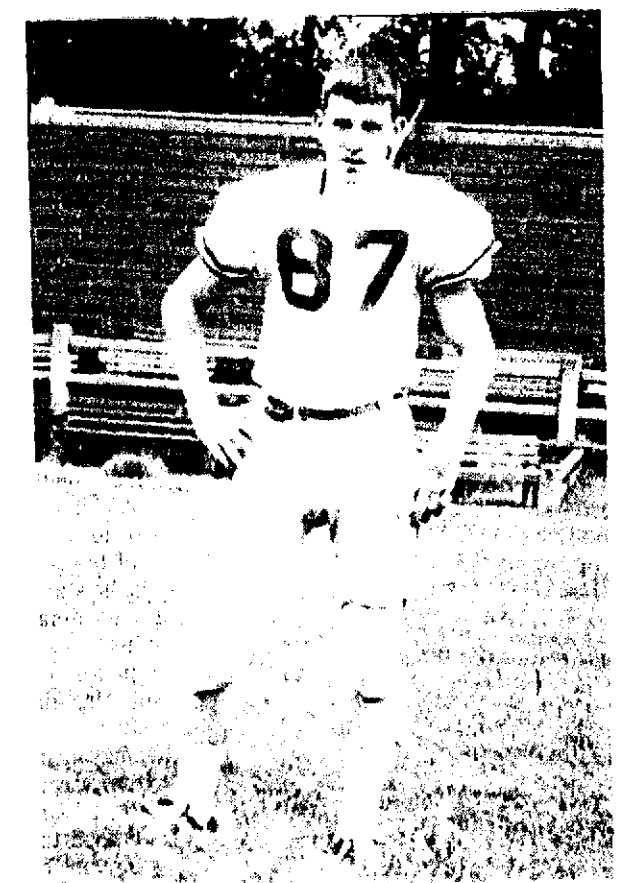

The best crop of sophomores to hit Magnolia in a long, long time, 35 altogether, makes Thomason grin from ear to ear.

U.N. HOT SET FOR OCT. 15

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The $100,000 United Nations Trot is scheduled for Yonkers Raceway on Oct. 15. The race, first held in 1960, will be at one and a half miles.

Low Individual Bobcats Look This Year

BALL EDITION
The 1966 edition of the Hope football squad is made up of players including ten and fourteen lettermen. It is the way they size up individually complete with the coaches' comments.

CENTERS
E. Jones, 17, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle. He stands 5' 11" and weighs 160. This is his first year of football and has done a fine job. We are expecting to carry the offensive load later. He plays end on defense.

TACKLES
Dennis Turner, 17, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John. He stands 6' 3" and weighs 185. He has gained the most maturity of any boy on the squad and has a fine future as a football player. We are expecting him to go both ways as an offensive guard and defensive end.

Joe McMurrough, 16, a junior letterman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McMurrough. Joe is 5' 5" and weighs 140. Joe gained alot experience as a "B" Teamer last year and we are looking for him to give us needed help at both offensive guard but most of all at the monster on defense.

Mike Monroe, 15, a sophomore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Monroe. Mike stands 5' 9" and weighs 145. He will be a guard on offense and a linebacker on defense.

Steve Gunter, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Russell, Mike is 5' 7" and weighs 175. This is Mike's first year of football and he has a very fine attitude. He will play tackle both offensively and defensively.

Carroll Beck, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beck. Carroll is truly an Arkansas "Blue Chipper." He stands 6' 4" and weighs 198. He is a dedicated athlete and should be heard from during his next three years. He will operate at offensive and defensive tackle.

GUARDS
Mike Dillard, 17, a senior letterman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Dillard. Mike stands only 5' 4" and weighs 140 but hits with the best of them. He should be an inspiration to any boy that has trouble growing. He has the nickname of "Stump" because of his physical makeup. Mike is an invaluable utility man. He plays guard on offense and believe it or not linebacker on defense. When the battle is all over he will still be there.

Dennis Turner, 17, a senior two year letterman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Turner. Dennis is 5' 9" and weighs 170. Dennis plays the game as it should be played, with reckless abandon. He never knows when to quit. Dennis should be one of the truly outstanding guards in the state. On defense he will play noseman and I would put him with the best.

John Henley, 16, a junior letterman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Henley. John who played center last year has made the change to guard with no trouble at all. He stands 6' 1" and weighs 185. John has gained the most maturity of any boy on the squad and has a fine future as a football player. We are expecting him to go both ways as an offensive guard and defensive end.

Joe McMurrough, 16, a junior letterman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McMurrough. Joe is 5' 5" and weighs 140. Joe gained alot experience as a "B" Teamer last year and we are looking for him to give us needed help at both offensive guard but most of all at the monster on defense.

Mike Monroe, 15, a sophomore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Monroe. Mike stands 5' 9" and weighs 145. He will be a guard on offense and a linebacker on defense.

Steve Gunter, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

QUARTERBACK
Mike Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Westbrook, is a two year letterman weighing 155 pounds and standing 5' 8". Westbrook, an 18 year old senior will be wearing number 12. Hampered by a broken foot in the 1965 season Mike is fully recovered and will be a scramble at quarterback. Mike is a very strong runner and has a very much improved passing arm. On defense he will operate as one of our monster men.

Buzz Andrews, number 10, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Andrews. Buzz is a one year letterman who stands 5' 10" and weighs 140. Gained invaluable experience last year when the role of starting quarterback was tossed on him due to team injuries. Buzz will play defensive halfback.

Larry Massanelli, number 21, stands 5' 7" and weighs 125 pounds. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Massanelli. As a sophomore he will direct the "B" Team at quarterback and defensive safety.

FULLBACKS
Freddie Easterling, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lile Easterling. Freddie is a two year letterman who will wear number 32. He stands 5' 9" and weighs 165. During the last two years Freddie has really concentrated on the defensive linebacker position which he will fill this year. He has the opportunity to stand out as an offensive back this his senior year.

Jerry Don Still, 16, a junior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Still. Jerry is a one year letterman who stands 5' 8" and weighs 145. He was a defensive specialist last year and will continue to be this year.

Mickey Allen, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allen. Mickey is what some coaches like to tab a boy as being a "Blue Chipper." He is 5' 9" and weighs 160 and will be operating at defensive halfback.

HALFBACKS
James Bradley, 17, a senior transfer from Yenger, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phecel Bradley. James is 5' 5" and weighs 140. James will be an offensive specialist. He is a fine pass receiver and will be a kickoff return man.

Danny Turner, 16, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Turner. Danny could possibly be the most improved football player in District 4AA. He will be an offensive specialist at wingback. He is 5' 7" and weighs 145. Danny has the speed and quickness to be a fine running back. We are depending on him very much. He will also handle the punt return chores.

Jerry McWilliams, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mrs. Lenny McWilliams. Jerry is 5' 6" and weighs 145. He is a fine prospect and will play offensive wingback and defensive halfback.

Stan Parris, 18, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Parris. He stands 6' 3" and weighs 180. The two time All-District end is faced with the challenge of a new position and is the type of boy who will do it if it will help piece together a winning combination. Stan plays defensive safety and with 17 pass interceptions probably is the leader in the state.

Mike Murphy, 16, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Murphy. Mike stands 5' 9" and weighs 145. This year Mike will be a defensive specialist at halfback. We are depending on him to fill this position and to become one of the best defensive backs in the conference.

Allen Phillips, 140 pound junior defensive specialist at halfback, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips. Allen is 17 years of age and stands 5' 9". Along with Murphy Allen has been given the call to man a vacated post. Allen could develop as an offensive back but must spend a big part of the 1966 season playing defense.

Kenny Koen, 15, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rillaman Koen. Kenny is 5' 9" and weighs 145. He will spend alot of time on offense carrying the load at tailback for "B" Team. He will be a monster on defense.

Buckaroos Expected to Be Improved
SMACKOVER — Smackover is the smallest school playing Class AA football but that doesn't mean the Bucks are whipped often, because they aren't. In fact, they've won a lot more than they've lost over the last 20 years.

Coach James Lemley hopes his team is improved over its 2-7-2 record of last year, a record totally unlike what the Buckaroos are traditionally coming

Malvern Is Seeking Big Things of Alpe

MALVERN — David Alpe picked a good football town to take his first head football coaching job. But he might have to wait a year or two to really reap the benefits.

Malvern has always had fine football teams and in another year they might be just as powerful as ever in Region 4AA.

Alpe, a graduate of Southern State, assisted at Little Rock Catholic and Helena before accepting the job here when Bill Hunt moved up to the principal's office.

Alpe will greet a squad of 60 players on opening day of practice but only six have earned letters including two that started a year ago for a 7-4-1 team.

Bobby Jones (160) and David Stroud (175) are the returning regulars.

Best among the other four lettermen is offensive end and defensive halfback Ronnie Stumbaugh (170).

Other lettermen are end Kenny Hollingsworth (165), David Manning (170) and end Bill Stevens (160).

"We have what appears to be a fine crop of sophomores and juniors," says Alpe, "but I don't know what position they'll play or what."

"On paper it looks like we'll have pretty good size but nothing like Crosssett, Camden and Magnolia. They tell me there's not too much speed on this group, but I don't know because I've never seen them work out."

"Malvern is a good football town and we'll be, more or less, rebuilding this year."

"But for this year's team, we won't have any experience except for those six lettermen."

Alpe will be assisted by Carroll Denton and Paul Rogers, a recent graduate of Ouachita Baptist University, plus two junior coaches.

up with.

The team lacks speed and depth, as usual, but it has a strong point in the passing of quarterback Mike Holloway, a starter as a sophomore last year and the 165-pounder was all-region basketball, too.

Other key players are halfback Del Basinger, guard James Eubanks, end Ronnie Crumpler and fullback Dale Hays.

No Trouble For 10 Games

Jon Brittenum last fall became the first Arkansas quarterback under Frank Broyles to maintain a live arm through a 10-game schedule. It was the 11th game that got him. Even so, Jon paid a visit to the SMU training room the morning of the Cotton Bowl for sore arm therapy.

Like pitchers, all quarterbacks acquire ailing arms from time to time.

Jim Monroe suffered a shoulder injury making a tackle in the 1959 Southwest opener against TCU. (He couldn't fully raise his arm against Texas but he completed 8 of 9 little split T-type jump passes.) George McKinney and Billy Moore, who also played rugged defense, nursed sore shoulders and arms from time to time and so did Billy Gray, who was happy to become a defensive specialist in 1964 for that reason. Fred Marshall missed most of the first two games of the 1964 season because of a bad arm.

Baylor and Rice

Rice opens with bowl teams Tennessee, LSU, and UCLA but Baylor's John Bridgers contends that his Bears will play the toughest schedule—maybe the hardest of any college team.

"We've got seven Southwest Conference teams; Washington State, which went 7-3 and beat three Big Ten teams; Colorado, which went 8-2 and has back 19 of its top 22; and Syracuse, a great football team."

Crossett, Camden Are Strongest

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Football fans in Region IV-AA may awaken in November concerned about a recurring dream—Crossett first and Camden second in the region's football race.

Actually, it may be no dream at all since the two powers figure to finish at the head of the class for the second straight year.

Crossett, with 18 lettermen on hand, could have the finest Class AA team in the state. And Camden will call on 16 lettermen in the Panthers' bid to dethrone the Eagles.

Should either falter, Warren will be sitting in the wings with 17 lettermen back from last year's fourth place team.

Crossett will have six starters returning to both its offensive and defensive platoons.

Defense should be the Eagles' strong suit with 230-pound tackle Karl Salb and 190-pound nose guard Carl Leonard setting the pace.

Salb threw the shot put 61 feet last spring, the first Arkansas high school athlete to surpass 60 feet in the event.

Coach John Pierce, in his first year at the Crossett helm, says he believes Salb has the potential to be as fine a football player as he is a track performer.

Pierce, an assistant last year, gives this assessment of his team:

"We'll be a little stronger in some spots and a little weaker in other spots. One pretty well balances the other so I guess you could say we'll be about the same as last year."

Tailback Jessie Riley and halfback Riley Craig will head the Crossett offense.

Coach Wayne Taylor moves up from an aide's post to the head coaching job at Camden. Much of the Panthers' success will depend on the performance of 240-pound tackle Ham Singleton.

Ken Fairchild and Jim Tom Patton, a pair of 150-pound halfbacks, give Camden good speed in the backfield.

An experienced backfield makes Warren a strong threat to improve on its 7-3-1 record of 1965. The Lumberjacks have quarterback Robert Dew, tailback Sammy Roberts and fullback Leigh Hargis back for a second year as starters. End Wade Graham and guards Charles Poole and Howard Freeman are key returning linemen.

Magnolia and Malvern will battle for fourth place in the league. The Panthers feature 195-pound tackle Newton Little, 165-pound halfback Ricky Erwin and 185-pound linebacker Dick Shanhouse among their 12 returning lettermen.

Malvern, which had a 7-4-1 mark last year, has only eight lettermen back, let by a pair of two-way starters, quarterback Bobby Jones and center David Stroud.

Hope possesses one of the state's top ends in Stan Parris, a two-time all-district star, but the Bobcats have only 11 lettermen on hand.

Smackover has 12 lettermen back from last year's cellar team and should be slightly stronger. Mike Holloway, a junior quarterback, end Del Basinger and guard James Eubanks are key players.

Arkadelphia soared to a 4-7 record in 1965 following an 0-11 mark the preceding year. The Badgers have 11 lettermen on hand but two top backs could keep them out of the cellar. They are quarterback Tommy Elledge and halfback Lee Kuyper, one of the league's most dangerous runners.

Camden Fairview tied for the cellar last year, and with only six lettermen on hand, the Cardinals appear to be headed for another last place finish. Tackle Alvie Simmering, end Gary Beavers and quarterback Jimmy Boyette are the top performers.

A THREE SPORT STAR

DETROIT (AP) — Player-coach Dave DeBusschere of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association is now a three-sport man.

The former pitcher for the Chicago White Sox recently qualified for the Michigan state amateur golf championship.

In the playoff for the last 10 places, he parred the first hole. His tee shot sailed 290 yards. His second shot made the green 20 feet from the flagstick. He missed a birdie putt by two inches.

Jack R. Waltz of Pittsburgh, Pa., will captain Yale's 1967 varsity tennis team.

Porker Outlook From Coach Frank Broyles

HERE IS how Frank Broyles capsules the Razorbacks' outlook:

OFFENSE—Still questionable. Untested at tailback, split end, two key positions. Could be real good; Brittenum and Jones could take up a lot of slack.

GROUND GAME—Inexperienced at tailback. Our vital position last year. If we are able to utilize Jones more, this would ease the pressure on the tailbacks, but we are concerned about goal-line punch, where Bobby Burnett was so valuable.

PASSING—Better. We've got more to go on; we know that Brittenum can do it.

DEFENSE—Most questionable. We aren't at all settled at right end, right tackle, and right halfback.

KICKING—The big question. Without Ronny South, who will be held out, we're replacing everyone. I wish I knew this would be adequate.

DEPTH—We aren't sure offensively. Defensively, better (we had none in the middle of the line last year).

SPEED—We'll have less at tailback and split end, two big positions (very few teams have ever had as much speed plus size as we had last year with Lindsey, Burnett, Jones, and Crockett for our outside game and passing). Defensively, we're giving up speed at tackle and end. For us, we will not be as fast.

STRONG POINTS—Some outstanding seniors; they've got to show the way.

WEAKNESSES—Inexperience at certain positions. We started one true sophomore last year. We now may start sophs at offensive guard, tailback, defensive tackle, defensive end, and at two defensive halfbacks. This is less important in platoon football; they can learn faster now. But we were better off in this respect a year ago.

OPPONENTS—All I know is what you hear and you gather that almost every team will be stronger in one way or another. I know we'll have our hands full starting the Conference race against TCU, Baylor, and Texas. We'll get a reading in a hurry.

OUTLOOK—I don't know what's in store for us. I'll know more when we report back September 1. Our work is cut out for us and it's not going to be easy.
